“ there are so many memories that I can think of in an instant not enough clarity within myself right now to help visualize them with words at the moment to me she was the best sister anyone could ever ask for... we talked about everything and anything... so many inside jokes we knew each other very well... and she always helped me especially at times when I couldn't even help myself ... life will never be the same without her.. and she will be greatly missed

“ Chad, I wish I had helpful words for you, but all I have to offer is a broken heart for you, your Mom, and most of all, the kids. Chera always was a better sister then most of us are. You guys were a team, she stuck up for you. We knew her relationship with you was important even when we were a bunch of emotional teen girls and you were, In our eyes, a bothersome little kid. I am so incredibly sorry for your loss. I wish we could come together to make it better, but we can't. I hope you know you are deep in my thoughts and prayers in a very literal way. I wish i could be there Friday to see her off, but i have important mom duty that day. I will hold her in my heart for always. Love and hugs from Minnesota.

“ I agree. Some of my best memories were the nights I spent at your house on Airline. I have no words, I really am truly stumped on what happened and why. You all are in my thoughts and my hearts. She was so great and I will always love her. I wish we had more time but here we are. Her beautiful children will always be on my mind as they go through the process of losing their mom. You're an amazing brother like she was as a sister to you. I will see you again this week. Sending hugs and love your way.
