“ I attended the funeral today as one of the representatives from Sons of Jacob Synagogue in Waterloo where Rabbi Rebecca Kushner serves as visiting rabbi. I am deeply moved by how much Abby was loved by her family and friends. I wished that I had met this remarkable young woman. Her death is a terrible loss. It is doubly painful to lose Abbey so close to the High Holidays and what would have been her next birthday. Please let me know if there is anything that the synagogue or I can do to help. As a retired clinical psychologist, I may be able to provide some ideas to help the family in their grief journey. The book, Grieving Mindfully: A Compassionate and Spiritual Guide to Coping with Loss (2005) by Sameet M. Kumar PhD, may be comforting for Abby's many loved ones.

Sincerely,

Naomi B. McCormick, Ph.D., Cedar Falls IA

“ Here is a beautiful girl who just wasn't feeling all of the love that was out there for her. She was a beautiful, gracious, intelligent princess at her Bat Mitzvah. She was a pretty little girl who made her family happy and was a companion for her little sister. Her life was becoming a roller coaster. May her dear soul Rest In Peace and her sweet memories sustain her mama, grandma and sister in particular.
