“ Annice was one of my dearest friends. And what a sense of humor. I visited a year ago and said, "You have the same TV you had 20 years ago!" Annice replied. "Yes, but it isn't much good now. It only picks up ball games." My happiest moments were those days I'd go to lunch with the guys and come back to have Annice waiting with her deserts and her conversation. And what talent she had for art. My heart and prayers go out to Ray and family. I will cherish her more than anyone will ever know.

“ My heart is with you all today. Such a sweet welcoming 'neighborhood mom' on 16th St in Marshalltown. I was always in awe of her creativity. I'm sorry I cannot be there today, but sending my prayers and hugs to Bruce and Elise, Denise, and everyone.

“ My memories of Annice are warm and endearing...she was such a caring person. I was welcomed into her Marshalltown home in high school when I was a student in Ray's art classes (1964) and remember being dazzled by all her artistic endeavors. Her inspirational work was colorful and full of energy and passion! At Marshalltown Community College where Ray was again my instructor, I continued my art studies and eventually became an art educator in Marshalltown still remaining close to Annice and Ray and their endeavors. Some of my most cherished memories are of her visits to Hansen Elementary where she would don her extraordinary witch costume and dramatically read Halloween stories to the children. How the students all looked forward to her annual appearance! My husband and I stayed connected with Ray and Annice throughout the last 50 years, always being drawn together with our mutual passion for the arts. Annice was one of my favorite people to be around...she was such a positive person who gave freely of her love and her passions. I will always hold memories of her very close to my heart. May God send his strength and love to Ray and the entire Frederick family during this difficult time.
