“ Dear dear Jim... my Dad, Mel Anderson, and Jim served their Country proudly as members in the 807th Army Engineers Battalion during WWII. Jim was so organized. He became the Historian for the 807th group, maintaining their large collection of WWII memorabilia. The group would hold a Reunion annually at different cities throughout the U.S.

Jim, rest in peace, Sir ... you will be missed.

“ I worked with Jim at BP&A in the 70's and enjoyed his attention to detail on his projects. Jim never got upset (or at least didn't show it) with us "young surveyors" and our antics. A great guy and a credit to his profession.
