“ Janet was a person truly devoted to her family and beyond. She followed her heart and soul to all who needed help while going without. She also had a fun side—we had so many laughs playing cards until wee hours of the night. She also had an outspoken side. I was with her when she was making an errand for her brother in law and received her one and only speeding ticket and was so upset about it she let him know how she felt. I will so miss our special talks. Rest in peace love you

I would like to add another funny side we share on one camping trip for entertainment we came upon a one man band who made us laugh so hard our stomachs hurt that was the highlight of all times

“ Janet opened her home to me growing up. Took me on vacations, school shopping, fed me, loved me even when I was hard to love. She had a beautiful smile and the best laugh. She was Friday night God Father’s Pizza, Saturday morning cartoons, an ice cold bottle of Pepsi and chocolate chip cookies. She was comfort and a gentle kick in the pants when I needed it. I’m a better human because of her and the Acklin family, I am forever grateful.

“ My grandma Janet was one of kind, her humor and dedication to family is truly honorable. She has been my role model my whole life, one of my most fond memories was receiving a grandma coupon book for my birthday- and the first one I cashed was join grandma at work day! I followed behind as she cleaned building after building effortlessly and efficiently. We even rescued turtles that escaped from their enclosure in the science building! I knew from that night she would be the hardest worker I would ever know, she was strong, independent and most of all confident. Grandma Janet loved quirky female detective books, a surprise malt from 4 queens, butterfly's, Bruce Willis in the Die Hard movies, a peanut butter and butter sandwich with a cold Squirt with extra ice, and most of all she loved Poppy, her daughters and most of all her grandchildren. I love you grandma❤️
