“ Although there's very little that one can do or say, may these words of sympathy help comfort you today. And help you meet each day ahead with hope and courage too. In knowing that others understand and share your loss with you.

“ Jay was a great servant of the people of Cedar Falls. I had the pleasure of serving with him on the city council and he worked very hard to listen to all of the people and to do the very best he could for the citizens he represented. Many of the ghood things we have in Cedar Falls today are a result of his tireless efforts to make it a better community. Many thanks for his service to our country and community.
