

Jon Cook

May 20, 1965 - May 19, 2012

Jonathan David Cook, 47, of Wellman, Iowa, died Saturday, May 19, 2012, at the University of Iowa Hospitals and Clinics in Iowa City.

His family is planning a memorial service for later this summer.

Tribute Wall

AW

“ Hi. My name is Angie and I am the Activity Director here at Parkview Manor where Jon has lived for several months. I am very sorry for your loss. Jon was a special guy. We would play balloon toss every morning at 9:30 a.m. and he loved this. He would smile, laugh and giggle every time he hit the balloon to me. I loved it when he was smiling. I would read his mail to him and he would always say that was nice that so and so sent me a card and I would agree and he would smile again. Another time I asked him if he knew how to dance, he said yes, I said will you dance with me? He said no I already danced with Jessica (with a big grin on his face). So I would always give him a hard time about not wanting to dance with me because he dances with Jessica. He would just grin from ear to ear. He is truly going to be missed from Parkview. Your family is in my thoughts and prayers. Angie, Activity Director, Parkview Manor

Angie Widmer - March 29, 2013 at 02:49 PM

SH

“ I was saddened to hear of Jon's passing. We missed him after he left Cedar Valley Community Support Services-but understood the health issues he was having. I worked with Jon for many, many years-he had a great sense of humor and was fun to work with. We will continue to miss Jon. So sorry for your loss.

Shirley Hinde - March 29, 2013 at 02:49 PM