“ No heart breaks alone for God is always near. When a prayer is whispered God is always there to hear. When sorrow's overwhelming, He comforts tenderly. A single tear never falls that he does not hear. (Psalms 65:2) Sorry for your loss.

“ My son is one of your son's friends and so I feel lead to let you know I am lifting up your whole family in my daily prayers. My heart hurts for you as parents and for a young soon to be mom missing her man. There just aren't adequate words from an earthly standpoint. I so pray that the Holy Spirit of Jesus himself would cover over your family, wrap you in arms of love and help you make it through moment by moment and day by day. You are not alone and many will be praying for you as you endure the pain of losing Josh. A fellow mom in prayer for your family. God bless and keep you.

“ Josh and I have known each other since kindergarten. His sister Katie, is my bestfriend. He was the shy and quiet one when other people were around but as soon as it was just us friends he was the life of the group. From djing the music to dancing around. There were nights we would just sit around the computer and look up youtube videos and just sit there and laugh. There's so many memories that I cherish and hold close to my heart. He has the best friends in the world. Seeing everyone being together and sharing these memories and supporting each other is what is getting us through day by day.

“ My son Cory and Josh were practically inseperable through Junior and Senior High. Josh was like the brother Cory never had. I was remembering with Cory of the 2 years he and Josh came up with the craziest costumes for Halloween. Cory was so tall and Josh so small. They were a crazy twosome. They went out and got their ear pierced and bought the craziest BIG rhinestone earring. They said they needed the "bling". Both of them with dark hair coming and wanting their hair bleached... I could go on and on. I went out and bought 2 futons for my basement. One was Cory,s and one was Josh's. Cory brought Josh and Brody to my brothers cabin on the Mississippi. My nieces who were only about 8 formed such crushes on Josh. He was such a cutie! The poor guy had to spend the weekend being chased by about 6 little girls but he was so good about it! I loved the time, friendship and companionship he gave to Cory at a time when he needed a friend. I will never forget Josh as I know anyone who ever met him will not. You and your family are in my prayers and I am thankful to you for allowing me the blessing of having your beautiful son in my life.

“ Josh and I worked together at Wendy's. I was an assistant manager and he was a shift supervisor. One hell of an employee by the way. I was diagnosed with leukemia, and actually got the news over the phone at work.

As I went thru the treatment Josh contacted me to touch base and that meant a lot to me. I'm proud to have known him and to call him friend. He will be missed. And Katey my deepest sympathy!

“ Josh went to junior high and high school with our son Jeff. As I remember Josh was always friendly and polite with us. He seemed to light up a room with his smile. I am sure he will be missed by so many. Sending prayers and comfort during this tragic time.

Blessings,
Dennis and Allison Curtis
