“ Kelli and I grew up together on 4th Ave. Her and I smoked our first cigarettes together. I would hide one or two of my dad's cigarettes and when mom and dad would leave we would pull the shades and light up. Not knowing that since my dad smoked the smell was already in the house, we would open a window and then go outside and run around to make sure no one could smell smoke on us. She was a roller skating and drinking buddy. We were even going to join the Navy on the buddy plan. And she always came down to visit everytime I came home. Kelli was a great friend then and now. I will miss her posts on Facebook and seeing her when I come home. Love ya girl RIP

“ Kelli and I worked together for Christie Door for a number of years. We became more than co-workers..we were friends, we shared our work loads, became anchor and supporters for one another, offered encouragement, knowing “we could do it!” We shared lots of laughter, plants, and her favorite cheesecake for her birthdays. Her loyalty, friendship, love for her family and friends was open, honest and true. Kelli, I shall miss you. Until we meet again sweet lady. AB (Arnetta)
