“ My name is Tim and I've been a friend of Gary's since grade school. We used to spend a lot of time upstairs at his house listening to music (Gary had a lot of albums). Whenever we got it a little bit too loud we knew it because the lights would start going on and off and then we would hear "other people live here to you know " and then "your little friends are going to have to go home". And we did. Thanks for the childhood memories Mary Lou. I will cherish them the rest of my life.
