“ So sorry to hear about Nancy's passing. I was in the same graduating class with Nancy and remember her as being so nice, considerate and bright. My prayers will be offered that you will find peace that she's now living eternal life. Theresa Warren Geving-Kansas City.

“ I, of course, have known Nancy since she was born into our family. I was so honored to have her in my home last Oct. She was the picture of health at that time. So hard to believe she has left our lives to be with our Heavenly Father.
His gain, our loss but comforting to know she is with her brother and grandparents.
Every now and then God needs a special angel. He has Nancy now and she will prove to be one of his very best. Prayers for her family.

“ As Spring brings new life to the earth, so it has brought new life for you, Nancy, in the arms of God. May you bloom forever in the garden of Heaven.
You will be missed by many.

I first met Nancy when she was about 6 years old. I would spend time with her & Lisa. I was about 12. I so enjoyed spending time with her. Then her Mom asked me if I would stay with them while she went to the store. I didn't expect it, but she wanted to pay me. So it began my babysitting career, watching Nancy and Lisa. Then added Jeff, and then Tom. Nancy shared with me they lost Tom so young. So sorry for the heartache her parents have had to endure. And so sorry for her siblings. I enjoyed reconnecting with Nancy on Facebook. Such an awesome tool to find old friends and get reacquainted. Wish I could have actually met with her again. One day when I am called up yonder, I will look her up and we will have an eternity to get acquainted again. Rest in peace, friend. Love & prayers to your family.
