“ MERF, My heart still remembers the Norm from 50 years ago. He'll always be the Grumio of the Taming of the Shrew. (Was that the right character?

I never realized until I read the obit that Norm was two years older than I. I thought all of us were the same age. I saw Sue and Rob Miller at or 50th and missed you two greatly. Now Sue too is gone, and Rob has disappeared. I will never forget. I know you will too.

“ Marilyn, we are so very sorry we were not able to attend the services for Norm. I was out of the country at the time and am very slow in catching up.

Norm, of course, was a star employee at the Cue. He could always be depended upon.

One thing we remember was how he loved to tell everyone the entire story of any movie he liked. We did not have to go see it to get the full impact.

None of us know where all those years between then and now have gone.

We do not have an address for you and of course, with everyone having cell phones, no addresses in the old phone book.

Sure hope you are getting along okay. Cannot have been easy for you for a long time.

*With our sympathy,
Pat and Ed Brown*
