“ Grammy, you were my favorite. I have so many good memories of you all the way back from you giving me free samples when you worked at Donut land which was huge as a small child. I found it funny how you would never tell my parents what you got me from Christmas despite their constant probing. You were funny and nice despite the situation and endured a lot including a crazy teenage grandson that you accepted :) For that and everything else about you that makes me smile I will always thank you. You will be missed!
