“ Paul was one of our gang of boys growing up together in New Hartford, participating in sports, shooting pool or playing pinball at the pool hall, fishing and swimming in the Beaver Creek, or just hanging out throughout our years in school and those precious summer months. He was one of us and became part of those early years we all cherish as adults. Paul didn't have much, but what he did have, he would gladly share with us. I lost contact with him after high school and bumped into him once years ago at a DNH football game. He loved sports and was a huge fan of DNH. We visited for quite a time. He told me about his family, etc. I have always considered him a good friend and will for the rest of my life because I always knew that there was goodness in his heart. I will never forget him and will remember him as a friend that life wasn't always fair with, but I trust now is in God's care. My sympathies to Larry and Paul's family.
