“Pa” was my favorite person ever. He would always tell me stories when I was over and stayed the night sometimes when I was little ❤️ he was an amazing painter and I love it when I saw him and when I saw him a smile would appear on his face. His smile was everything and his personality. I will miss him so much and it is going to be hard on a milestone that I accomplish like graduation or getting my liesence or even getting married. Pa just know you were always my favorite and I will love you for ever and ever amen. And love is a burning thing and it makes a fiery ring 💍💋 rest in peace pa I love you with all my heart.

“Grandpa Bob is going to be so incredibly missed. He came into my life 16 years ago when I met Adam, and welcomed me in with wide open arms and loved me like his own granddaughter. Every time I’ve hung out with “Pa” the table or room was never short of laughs. The man was great with coming up with on the spot one liners for our grand entertainment. Over the years I’ve watched him go from crawling on the floor with his great-grand babies to slowing down bit by bit. While his body slowed, his mind was still sharp. I cherish a personal painting he did for me, that I have hanging in my home. I loved our life chats. He always kept up with what was going on in the world and had a couple opinions about it all. Every time we got to visit and spend time with him, was a treasure. I’m so glad we hugged a bit longer last visit. You just never know when it’ll be the last time you get to see someone you love, that you get so used to having around at any given moment. Our heart breaks that we didn’t get one more time with Pa. Our heart breaks for every person who knew and loved this wonderful guy. His memory and our times together will live on. Grateful for all of them. May he rest in peace, in a place where he is truly free from any aches, pains, and the reality of this life being but a vapor. James 4:14 says— “yet you do not know what tomorrow will bring. What is your life? For you are a mist that appears for a little time and then vanishes.” I am reminded how fleeting life is, the Bible reminds us too. Let us all live with love, and with a good one liner we can pull out of our pockets here and there to make everyone laugh, just like Bob did!

“ My dad was an incredible man, whether he was painting, playing his guitar, or making his backyard look like it belonged in a magazine. He did nothing halfway. A man of many talents. He delivered the best one liners, and always left you laughing. He loved his old Milwaukee, and never without salt. He loved my mom of 61 years, his kids, his grandkids, and great grandkids. I will miss him for the rest of my life.
