“ It was so hard watch Pa fade away. He was a special man who would do anything for anyone. Always ready to help. So many wonderful memories made through the years. Dementia is a cruel disease. Pa would get up each morning always with a smile ready to start the day and always asking Stevie what we are going to do today. He loved it when Greyson would go downstairs to see him and Greyson loved him. They spent a lot of time together. He will always be in our thoughts each and every day. We Love you Pa
