“ Dear Joan,
I just read in the paper about the loss of your husband. It looked like he left his mark on the world. I didn't remember seeing him when we worked together at PLS, but I saw you out for coffee often. Please accept my sincere condolences.

“ Please accept our sincere condolences for the loss of your loved one. Jesus promises that we will be able to see our loved ones again at John 5:28,29 which talks about the resurrection hope. What a wonderful hope that will be! May this bible thought bring you comfort at this difficult time.

“ For no apparent reason I began thinking of Professor Diamond this week. I googled him today, nearly 40 years since I took his Channels of Distribution class at UNI, only to learn he had passed. I didn't understand at the time , but Mr. Diamond had the single greatest impact on my career. I just wanted to say thank you and apologize for never taking the time to tell him how important he was in my life. My condolences. Bill Shaw

“ Joan, my sympathies to you. I didn't know Saul well, but I was in Rotary for a while and saw him there. I do, however, remember you so well as Miss England who introduced me to a world of wonderful literature, and who could tell a story like no one else. I'm sure that you gave Saul as much joy as you gave your students.

Thoughts and prayers for you, family, and friends.

“ Dear Joan,

My deep sympathy to you upon Saul's death. I have such fond memories of my relationship with him at UNI and Supper Club. I even recall that as his declining hearing made it more difficult for him to enjoy Supper Club, he told me he was remaining there until my presentation that year--how kind. When I think of Saul, I think immediately of you--such a team you were.

Sincerely,

Judy Harrington
